

Purpose Restored

THE POINT

Through Jesus, we can be forgiven and restored to the purpose for which He created us.

LIFE CONNECTION

A sense of purpose eludes so many in society, but even when people tie their purpose to faith, religion, or God, they still fall short. Sin remains a barrier to fulfilling God's purpose, but we are not in a position to correct the problem. Thankfully, God addressed the problem for us through Jesus. We regain our purpose when we respond with repentance and faith.

THE PASSAGE

Acts 3:14-26

THE SETTING

The first Christians were Jewish, and they continued to meet together in the temple in Jerusalem (Acts 2:46). In Acts 3, Peter and John were going to the temple to pray (3:1). They encountered a lame man begging at the temple gate. Peter healed the man in the name of Jesus Christ, which created astonishment among the people present (vv. 2-10). A crowd gathered and Peter took this opportunity to preach. He began his sermon by asking why they were amazed by what had occurred, noting that it had not been him or John who had healed the lame man (v. 12). The power came from Jesus Christ (v. 16), whom God had glorified and whom the Jews had handed over to be put to death (v. 13).

Besides physical issues, in what other ways do people need healing and restoration?

Acts 3:14-18

14 You denied the Holy and Righteous One and asked to have a murderer released to you.

15 You killed the source of life, whom God raised from the dead; we are witnesses of this.

16 By faith in his name, his name has made this man strong, whom you see and know. So the faith that comes through Jesus has given him this perfect health in front of all of you.

17 “And now, brothers and sisters, I know that you acted in ignorance, just as your leaders also did.

18 In this way God fulfilled what he had predicted through all the prophets—that his Messiah would suffer.

SUMMARIZE: Before reading the verses, refer to “The Setting” on page 38 to establish the context of the biblical passage.

READ: Enlist a volunteer to read Acts 3:14-18

READ: Share the Connection to The Point: Faith in Jesus is the way to restoration.

GUIDE: Refer the group to PSG, page 39. Use the author’s comments to contrast the disbelief of the crowd with the faith of the lame man.

Peter wanted the crowd to understand that they didn’t just reject some itinerant rabbi; Peter was referring to Jesus as God’s Messiah—the very source of life in their midst—but they rejected Him and killed Him.

Because Jesus is alive, He is still at work. He works on our behalf as we place “our faith in his name.”

We don’t know how much faith or understanding this crippled man had, but when Peter said, “In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, get up and walk!” (v. 6), it was enough for him to take hold of Peter’s hand.

SUMMARIZE: Refer to the Bible Commentary to explain these key words from vv. 14-18 to reinforce the importance of faith. Highlight the following:

Witnesses (v. 15).

Faith in his name (v. 16).

Faith that comes through Jesus (v. 16).

DISCUSS: Question 2: Where do you see evidence in our culture that people need restoration?

TRANSITION: Faith in Jesus will lead to restoration but only after we have dealt rightly with our sin.

Acts 3:14-18 Commentary

Denied (v. 14). When Jesus was on trial and the Roman governor Pontius Pilate had stated he had found no guilt in Jesus and offered to release Him, the crowd instead demanded Pilate release the revolutionary and murderer Barabbas. Despite multiple attempts by Pilate to have Jesus released, the crowd continued to demand that Pilate release Barabbas and crucify Jesus (Luke 23:13-25).

Holy and Righteous One (v. 14). Titles for Jesus, these terms are most likely synonyms and both have messianic emphases. The demons called Him “the Holy One of God” (Mark 1:24; Luke 4:34). Jesus referred to Himself in His message to the church at Philadelphia as “the Holy One, the true one” (Rev. 3:7). References to Jesus as “the Righteous One” appear in Acts 7:52 and 22:14; and “Jesus Christ the righteous one” in 1 John 2:1. In the Old Testament, righteousness was a characteristic of the prophesied Messiah (see Isa. 53:11; Jer. 23:5; Zech. 9:9).

Source of life (v. 15). Jesus is the eternal Word of God, in whom there is life and through whom all things came into being (John 1:1-4). Jesus said of Himself, “I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me” (14:6).

God raised from the dead (v. 15). Peter quickly reminded his hearers that death did not spell the end of Jesus, for God the Father raised Him from the dead (Acts 2:32; 4:10; 13:30; Rom. 6:4; Eph. 1:20).

Witnesses (v. 15). After His resurrection, Jesus appeared to His disciples on numerous occasions, making them witnesses to His resurrection. Jesus appeared to Peter alone (1 Cor. 15:5). Then, He appeared to the apostles (minus Thomas) in the upper room (John 20:19-23). He appeared to the apostles again (including Thomas, vv. 26-29). Jesus also appeared to over five hundred believers at one time (1 Cor. 15:6).

Faith in his name (v. 16). The healing of the lame man was through faith in the name of Jesus. “In the biblical sense a name . . . represents a person and is an extension of that person’s being and personality. To invoke the name of Jesus is to call upon his authority and power.”<sup>1</sup>

Obviously, Peter had faith in Jesus, but what about the lame man? The initial moment of faith for the man was when Peter commanded, “In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, get up and walk!” (v. 6). The extent of the man’s faith in Jesus is not stated, but it was enough for the miracle to occur.

Faith that comes through Jesus (v. 16). Peter wanted no credit for the healing. Jesus healed the lame man by faith, and even the man’s faith was not something that Peter could credit to himself. Faith had come through Jesus.

Perfect health (v. 16). The lame man had sat outside the temple proper as a broken man, prohibited from going further inside the temple to worship. However, through faith in Jesus, he now had access to enter further into the temple to worship. Jesus took his brokenness and made him whole.

Ignorance (v. 17). The Jews did not recognize who Jesus was, and that was the source of their ignorance (agnoia). The Greek term refers to someone who through a lack of information engages in immoral conduct. This did not leave the Jews without guilt for their rejection of Jesus, but it did inspire hope in Peter that they would believe in Jesus, receive forgiveness for their sins, be reconciled to God, and receive eternal life.

God fulfilled what he had predicted (v. 18). Though God still held the Jews responsible for their rejection of Jesus, He had used their rejection of Jesus to fulfill the words of His prophets concerning the sufferings of the Messiah (Jesus). Perhaps some of the best known Old Testament prophecies regarding the Messiah’s sufferings are the prophet Isaiah’s Servant Songs (Isa. 42:1-4; 49:1-6; 50:4-11; 52:13-53:12).

19 Therefore repent and turn back, so that your sins may be wiped out, 20 that seasons of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, and that he may send Jesus, who has been appointed for you as the Messiah.

21 Heaven must receive him until the time of the restoration of all things, which God spoke about through his holy prophets from the beginning.

READ: Enlist a volunteer to read Acts 3:19-21.

READ: Share the Connection to The Point: Jesus forgives and refreshes us when we repent of our sin.

RECAP: Refer the group to PSG, page 41 and recap the three things God does when we repent and turn back.

Your sins are wiped out. “Wiped out” carries the meaning of “erased.” Ink didn’t soak into first-century parchments as ink does on our modern-day paper. A wet sponge could erase whatever was on a parchment. It doesn’t matter how stained we are from our past failures, rebellion, and sin, Christ’s death on the cross fully erases and makes us clean.

Seasons of refreshing come from the presence of the Lord. Jesus doesn’t just remove the bad; He replaces it with something good!

He will send Jesus, who has been appointed as the Messiah. We can experience the forgiveness and refreshment of His presence in our lives. When we repent and turn to God, we have a sure and certain hope that when Christ returns, “He will wipe away every tear from their eyes. Death will be no more; grief, crying, and pain will be no more, because the previous things have passed away” (Rev. 21:4).

DISCUSS: Question 3: What are some obstacles that keep us from repentance?

SUMMARIZE: Refer to the Bible Commentary to highlight these key words from vv. 19-21. Use them to show that Jesus alone forgives and refreshes.

Alternate Question

How would you explain the connection between repentance and restoration?

Acts 3:19-21 Commentary

Repent and turn back (v. 19). The term repent translates the usual Greek word for repentance (metanoeo) which means “a change of mind or practice.” It involves remorse and sorrow for one’s sins, but it also involves a change in one’s thinking that results in a change in one’s actions. This is captured by the term epistrepho, which is translated turn back or “convert.” The individual needs to turn away from his or her sins and turn toward God.

Sins (v. 19). The term (hamartia) means “missing the mark,” in this context a departure from God’s standards. Paul wrote that all people have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God (Rom. 3:23).

Wiped out (v. 19). Putting their faith in Jesus would enable the people’s sins to be wiped out. Repentance leads to the canceling of sin. The term (exaleipho) can also be translated “to erase.” In ancient times, due to parchment being expensive, scribes sometimes used acid-free ink to write on it. Since this ink did not soak into the parchment, if necessary the writing could be erased with a wet sponge. God wipes away our sins and their penalty, because Jesus has paid the price for them. Paul described forgiveness as Jesus canceling the record of the debt against a person (Col. 2:14). John called this forgiveness “the atoning sacrifice for our sins” (1 John 2:2).

Seasons of refreshing (v. 20). Those who repent and put their faith in Christ also experience seasons of refreshing. The idea pictures a cool breeze that provides refreshment. In this present world, filled with evil and darkness, one of the great blessings of forgiveness of sin are these times of respite or refreshment from the battle (Eph. 6:10-17; 1 Tim. 6:12; 2 Tim. 2:3-6; 1 Pet. 5:8-9). That does not mean that life is always peaceful and easy, but it does mean that while we have difficulties in life, we also have times of refreshing.

The presence of the Lord (v. 20). Lord is a term usually associated with Jesus in the New Testament, but here it refers to God the Father. God is the source of these seasons of refreshing.

Send Jesus (v. 20). The Father sent Jesus to do the work of redemption as Suffering Servant at His first coming, and in the future He will send Jesus back to earth at His second coming as Conquering King.

Appointed for you as the Messiah (v. 20). Peter emphasized that Jesus is God’s chosen Messiah whom He had sent to live, suffer, and die for the sins of Peter’s audience, and God had resurrected Jesus from the dead.

Heaven must receive him (v. 21). After His resurrection, Christ ascended into heaven (Acts 1:9-11). The Messiah will sit at the right hand of God until all His enemies are made Christ’s footstool (Heb. 10:12-13; see Ps. 110:1).

Until the time of the restoration of all things (v. 21). This verse can be interpreted in a few ways based on the meaning of the term translated restoration (apokatastasis). It can also mean “fulfillment.” In regards to restoration, Peter may have been referring to the time at the end of this age when God will both glorify all believers in Christ and recreate the heavens and the earth (Rom. 8:18-25; 2 Pet. 3:6-7; Rev. 20:11–21:4). If the intended meaning was fulfillment, then Peter was probably referring to the fulfillment of all Old Testament prophecies concerning the end of the age when God will establish His rule on earth (Isa. 11:6; 9; 65:17; 66:22).

God fulfilled what he had predicted (v. 18). Though God still held the Jews responsible for their rejection of Jesus, He had used their rejection of Jesus to fulfill the words of His prophets concerning the sufferings of the Messiah (Jesus). Perhaps some of the best known Old Testament prophecies regarding the Messiah’s sufferings are the prophet Isaiah’s Servant Songs (Isa. 42:1-4; 49:1-6; 50:4-11; 52:13–53:12).

READ: Enlist a volunteer to read Acts 3:22-26.

READ: Share the Connection to The Point: God raised Jesus to turn us from our evil ways.

GUIDE: Refer the group to PSG, pages 43–44 and use the author’s comments to reinforce the truth that only Jesus can save.

The Jews thought they had an inside track into coming to God. They were descendants of Abraham. They had Moses and the law. They had the prophets. They had the covenants, the special relationships God established with His people.

Moses, the highly esteemed leader of the Jewish people, spoke of Another. “The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your brothers. You must listen to everything he tells you.” The prophets also pointed to Him.

Listen to the Messiah and do what He says. Repent and turn to God. He’s the only one worth listening to. There’s great news because He wants us to come to Him. He wants to save us. He wants to bless us. But it’s through Him—and only through Him.

SUMMARIZE: Refer to the Bible Commentary to explain these key words from vv. 22-26 to focus on Jesus as the only way to be saved.

A prophet like me (v. 22);

Completely cut off from the people (v. 23);

All the families of the earth will be blessed through your offspring (v. 25).

DISCUSS: Question 5: How has your life been restored and refreshed because of Jesus?

Alternate Question
What other paths do people attempt apart from Christ to find salvation?

Acts 3:22-26 Commentary

Moses said (v. 22). Peter indicated in verse 21 that God’s holy prophets spoke of the return of the Messiah. He first quoted Moses from Deuteronomy 18:15-19. As the Israelites prepared to cross over the Jordan River and enter the promised land, Moses warned them not to listen to those who practiced divination and other occultic methods (Deut. 18:10-14). Instead, he urged them to listen to the prophet of the Lord that God would raise up from among them (v. 15). Moses was referring to the many prophets God would send throughout Israel’s history who would proclaim God’s will to His people. However, by the time of Christ, some Jews recognized this passage as referring to the Messiah. The Qumran community (a Jewish sect located in the Judean wilderness that existed from 130 BC–AD 70) looked for a prophet like Moses as part of their expectation of the Messiah. Stephen’s speech emphasized the Mosaic-prophetic aspect of the Messiah, Jesus (Acts 7:37).

The Lord your God will raise up (v. 22). This passage emphasizes the authority of God in sending His Messiah. God carefully planned Jesus’s coming as Messiah, and He directed the process (Mark 1:15; Rom. 5:6; Gal. 4:4; Eph. 1:3-14).

A prophet like me (v. 22). Jesus was a prophet like Moses in that, as Moses was the mediator of the old covenant; Jesus inaugurated and is the Mediator of the new covenant in His blood (Luke 22:20). Moses delivered the Israelites from slavery to Egypt; Jesus delivers all those who will repent and believe in Him from slavery to sin, death, and Satan.

Everyone who does not listen (v. 23). The term for listen (akouo) occurs in both verses 22 and 23. While it can mean “to hear” or “to listen to,” in this context it means “to hear and obey.” Listening involves taking His words to heart and receiving Him as one’s Savior and Lord rather than rejecting Him. It also involves heeding Jesus’s words and doing what He says (Matt. 7:24-27; John 14:15).

Completely cut off from the people (v. 23). Those who reject Jesus’s message are faced with the dire consequence of eternal separation from God in hell. This phrase comes from Leviticus 23:29. In its original context, it dealt with those who refused to observe the Day of Atonement, during which people were to gather together for worship, refrain from working, and practice self-denial (Lev. 23:23-32). God declared that those who refused to follow these instructions would be “cut off from his people” and destroyed (vv. 29-30). This is a sober warning concerning rejecting God’s offer of salvation through Jesus Christ: those who refuse God’s offer of atonement through Jesus Christ will face God’s judgment.

Samuel (v. 24). Samuel mediated the establishment of the kingship of David. He anointed David to be king over Israel (16:1-13). Peter recognized David as foretelling of the Messiah in his psalms (Acts 1:15-17; 2:25-36) and Paul made a further connection between David and the Messiah (13:32-37).

Sons of the prophets (v. 25). The Jews who listened to Peter were sons of the prophets in the sense that as Jews they were heirs of the promises God made to Abraham and recipients of the blessings of the Messiah, the son of King David.

And of the covenant (v. 25). The Jews were the inheritors of the covenants God made with Abraham (Gen. 12:1-3; 15:1-14; 17:1-14), Moses (Ex. 3; 19–20), and David (2 Sam. 7). However, they had to embrace Jesus as their Messiah to receive the benefits of these covenants in Christ.

All the families of the earth will be blessed through your offspring (v. 25). This is a reference to the words God spoke regarding the Abrahamic Covenant (Gen. 12:3; 18:18; 22:18). The ultimate blessing is available through Jesus Christ for all those who repent of their sins and put their faith in God’s Messiah, Jesus Christ, thereby receiving the blessings of salvation.

LIVE IT OUT

GUIDE: Live It Out (PSG, page 45). Encourage the group to follow through this week with at least one of the applications.

Jesus wants to restore you to the purpose for which you were created. What will you do with that truth?

- Repent. Restoration begins by coming to Christ in repentance and faith. If you've never made a commitment of your life to Christ, you can do so now. Talk to someone in your Bible study group about your desire to follow Christ. The inside front cover of this book can tell you more.
- Refresh. Even as a Christian, life can be challenging. Thankfully, you're not alone. Spend some focused and unhurried time with Jesus by praying and reading His Word. Let His Spirit wash over you to keep you strong.
- Restore. Let others see Jesus in you as you live out a renewed and restored purpose. You can't restore others to their purpose in Christ, but you can be a testimony to them of how Christ restores. Be ready to tell your story to all who are willing to hear.

Wrap It Up

GUIDE: Emphasize The Point: Through Jesus, we can be forgiven and restored to the purpose for which He created us.

GUIDE: Remind the group that we should not be ashamed or embarrassed by the truth that only Jesus can forgive and save. And without His restoration, there's no hope for reclaiming the purpose God has for our lives.

PRAY: Lord, thank You for dying on the cross for us. We know You did it to forgive us and save us. Show us our sin and give us the courage to trust You as we repent from it. Restore our relationship with You and enable us to serve You according to Your purposes.
